Oil Loss Control: Conference Proceedings P.A.M. Jelffs

This book contains all papers presented to the Institute of Petroleum's one-day conference on oil loss, held in late 1987, to assess the extent of progress made in the areas of crude oil voyage losses, cargo inspection (crude oil) and vapour recovery (distribution systems). The papers included a presentation of the main findings of statistical analysis of crude oil voyage data supplied by nine oil companies, which provided participants with information on the distribution and average values of losses in a number of areas around the world. General papers on loss control were presented which covered density determination, shore tank measurements and the latest computer aided loss monitoring techniques in terminals and pipelines. A new measurement standard was also introduced to aid cargo surveyors.
